What We're Working On

Problem Analysis

Digging deep to find the true cause of disproportional failing rate in a specific classroom.

Potential Problem Analysis

To apply what we have learned during the past year and create sustained improvement.

Situation Appraisal

Breaking down complex leadership development plans to prioritize and plan for opportunities.

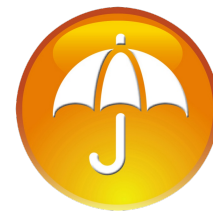

Decision Analysis

Using criteria to find, hire, and maintain staff members.

Problem Analysis

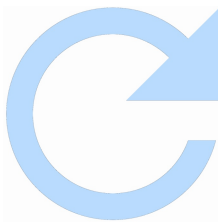

Determining true cause of increase in student disruptive behaviors in an elementary school.

Potential Problem Analysis

Planning for successful implementation of setting spectator limits for indoor sporting events.

TregoED Refreshers Courses

We have had many past workshop participants from the 850 school districts we have worked with take advantage of our free refresher course. The course features eight one-hour sessions covering Situation Appraisal (SA), Decision Analysis (DA), Potential Problem Analysis (PPA), and Problem Analysis (PA). We are now scheduling new sessions. For more information, email Michael Curran-Hays.

All sessions review each process using a relevant issue happening with school districts right now. Each person attending gets a FREE one hour coaching session post refresher to help them apply the TregoED process to a current school need.

Community of Practice

Strategic Tools for Excellent Problem Solving 2 (S.T.E.P.S. 2) facilitators are invited to join our Community of Practice to discuss current topics with top-notch colleagues.

The pandemic has accelerated innovation in schools. Our discussion centered around how to promote and leverage new capabilities. Read more.

With the potential of conflict, health issues and interruptions, we discussed using process to foster building a positive school climate. Read more.

Our next session will focus on how to use bits and pieces of process to help build a performance system that maximizes the success of your staff and students. Read more.

A Final Word from our Executive Director

As the holidays approach, we are both humbled and grateful to work with leaders who strive every day to build practices that support the success of their staff and students under challenging conditions. We are honored that so many have allowed us to do our small part to make that work more effective with clear thinking and communication.

Regards,

Michael
